WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. The Senate had another long delate on Mr. McPherson's currency bill to-day. Mr. Beck spoke in favor of the bill. Mr. Morrill opposed it, and offered an amendment providing that upon a deposit of United States bonds any national bank shall be en-titled to receive circulating notes of different denominations in blank, as follows: On United States 4 per cent, bonds deposited prior to Jan. 1, 1890, an amount equal to 110 per cent, of the par value of such bonds, provided that the issue of circulating notes upon the 4 per cent, bonds deposited or held in the first year succeeding Jan. 1, 1890, shall not exceed 100 per cent. of the par value of such bonds, and that the issue on such 4 per cent, bonds deposited or hold in each succeeding year shall be I per cent, less than in the year tpreceding, until the limit of issue of such circulating notes is reduced to par; and provided that on the deposit of any bonds of the United States now authorized by law, except as otherwise provided, circulating notes may be issued to an amount not exceeding the par value of such bonds; and at no time shall the total amount of such notes istime shall the total amount of such notes issued to any association exceed the amount at the time actually paid in of its empiral stock; that associations organized for the purpose of issuing notes payable in gold, upon the deposit of any United States bonds bearing interest payable in gold, shall be entitled to receive circulating notes to the amount and in the manner prescribed for other national banking associations.

or any United States bonds bearing Interest payable in gold, shall be entitled to receive circulating notes to the amount and in the manner prescribed for other national banking associations.

Mr. Aldrich favored Mr. Morrill's amendment because it gave an inducement to the purchaso of four per cent. bonds.

Mr. Vest offered an amendment providing for the engraving of Treasury notes of various denominations, which shall be made payable on demand at the office of the Assistant Treasurer in New York in standard gold or silver coin when presented in sums of not less than $190, and that whenever any of the bonds of the United States become subject to redemption, and are deposited with the Treasurer as accurity for the circulating notes of any attentions and accured interest, or may exchange such notes at their par value and accrued interest, or may exchange such notes at their par value for gold or silver coin and redeem the bonds therewith, and the deposit of lawful money to redeem the outstanding circulation of such bank may be made in legal tender notes or in the notes described, and thereafter the circulating notes of such bank shall be redeemed at the Treasury, and when redeemed shall be cancelled. The Treasury notes referred to are made receivable for all dues and demands of the United States, and at par.

Mr. Morgan presented an amondment providing, among other things, that when any bonds of the United States, deposited in the Treasury by a lank to secure its circulation, are called and paid by the Government, such bank shall have the right to substitute bonds issued by any of the States, but said bonds of the United States so called and paid at a rate exceeding blank; per cent, of their face value, nor shall they be received on deposit unless the interest for five years previous has been paid, nor when they are worth less than par in New York. The interest neeruing on such State bonds is to be placed to the credit of the bank. The Committee on Military Affairs reported adversely petitions of several army pay

WIRES ALREADY UNDER GROUNDA

Montreal Making a Practical Test of a Plun for Hidding Its Streets of Poles. MONTREAL, Feb. 14 .- This city is making an earnest and practical experiment with underground wires, and those who are interested say that they are confident the method will be adopted by the city this spring. A New York man, A. T. Woodward, introduced the invention now in operation, and sufficient capital was supplied by such men as the Hon. J. J. Curran, member for Montreal Centre, and Richard McKeown, the leading contractor of the city. The company has been formed, and will get its charter in a few days. The Common Council gave the investors the right to lay the the wires. They laid their wires in frightfully stormy weather, and the winter has already proved unusually severe.

The wires are the ordinary ones, insulated by a coating of woven thread covered with wax. At a depth of two feet beneath the surface of the street the experimenters sunk a small wooden box. Their patent does not embrace these parts of their work. It is the rest of the operation that they rely upon. They bolied together a quantity of silica, rosin, linsed oil, and parafine. This, when cool, becomes as hard as stone. With this in its warm and fluid state they coated the bottom of the wooden box, then drew their wires through the same material, and, after putting them in the box, filled it up with the material. They assert that when the wooden box rots and disappears the stone composition will remain practically for all time. The city uses its two wires every day, and the experimenters use their eight wires. The invention has worked beautifully.

The Cadet Court Martial.

Annapolis, Feb. 14.-Cadet Maxey is now before the court martial at the Navy Academy. He is charged under two specifications, first for assisting in hazing Cadets Craig, Wells, and Russell by ordering them to stand on their heads, and second for hazing thein to stand on their heads, and second for haring Cadet Craig and attempting to force him to fight. Cadet Maxey pleaded not guilty to all the charges. Cadet Russell was then called by the prosecution and testified that he was ordered by Cadet Farker to go into room 5 and stand on his head. He went in and at tirst eid not do so, but the order being repeated by Cadet Parker, and Cadet Maxey having knocked off his hat, he obeyed and stood on his head. Most of the cadets then left the room. He also testified that he know nothing of the charge in the second specification.

Serious Allegations Against Comptrolle Enex and Bank Examiner Needham. Boston, Feb. 14 .- By a notice just issued by Secretary Payne of the Stockholders' Association, the stockholders and creditors of the Pacific National Bank are invited to sign a memorial asking Congress to make an official investigation of the conduct of Government off cers in connection with the failure of the bank. The memorial first sets forth the circum stances of the failure, the original vote to increase the capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000, and the fact that only $461,300 was paid in. It is then alleged that Comptroller Knox, knowing that the bank was insolvent. issued to the bank and to the directors a cer tificate permitting and authorizing an illegal nerense of the capital, thus aiding and abet ting the directors in their fraudulent attempt o change the relations of those who had paid in their money on account of a portion of the

to change the relations of those who had paid in their money on account of a portion of the increased capital from that of creditors of the bank to that of sharsholders therein, without their knowledge or consent and thus appropriating their money to the payment of other creditors, and attempting to defrand them still further by making them liable as shareholders to an assessment of 100 per cent, upon said fraudulently increased capital, for the purpose of paying other creditors of the bank.

Bank Examiner Noedham is charged, in colinsion with President Coleman and Director William J. Best and other directors, with inducing the shareholders to vote the 100 per cent, assessment by faisely representing that they would save all the amount so paid in and from 25 to 50 per cent, of the par value of their shares, well-knowing at the time they made and repeated such statements that they were faise, and that the bank was hopelessly insolvent. The petition then sets forth that in March, 1882, the bank was permitted by Comptroller Knox and Examiner Needham to resume business, it being represented that the bank was perfectly solvent; that in two months the bank again suspended andfwas placed by Mr. Knox in the hands of a receiver, who found the bank to have been hopelessly insolvent at and long before September, 1881, when the directors voted to increase the capital; and it is alleged that Needham and Knox knew, or were bound officially to know, that the bank was insolvent at the different dates mentioned, and were bound to do no act which should tend to deceive the sharsholders or the public.

Then follow general allegations that Examiner Needham and Computroller Knox alded the directors in defrauding the shareholders and recitors, and it is further represented that the affairs of the bank, both before the first suspension and afterward up to this time, had been conducted in a manner which is a reproach to the bank hother represented to the House in a few weeks by Congressman Morse. Several signatures of shareholders wer

John Osborn, Son & Co., agents in the United Detective Dorsey ascertained that the spurious Pipe Heldsleck was manufactured and but up at 238 Sevent avenue by James B. Colgan, alias John Reilly, who was formerly an agent in the wine business. Detectives Dorsey, Dusenbury, Handy, and O'Connor searched Colgan's place yesterday on a warrant issued on con Coigan's place yesterday on a warrant issued on com-plaint of Francis P. Osborn. They found apparatus for making champagne, a quantity of labels, some counter feit and some genuine, and a lot of bottles in which the real Piper Heidsleck had once been. Detective Borsev said the wine was good. Coigan and his employees Edward Devin and John Keily, were arrested. They were also to Jefferson Market, and remanded for exwere taken to Jenerson Market, and remanded for ex-amination to-day.

Andrew E. Lines, keeper of the Point View House at Sixth avenue and 11th street, said he purchased several cases of wine from Colgan. John Donnelly of 1,189 Third avenue, a friend of John Keily, who cleaned Col-gan's bottles and put labels on them, said that Keily had and that wine from one cask was poured into tottles hearing three labels—Piper Heidsleck, Clicquot, and Cartle Blanche. The detectives say that Colgan was carrying on an extensive business.

Proposing to Build an Actors' Home.

At the yearly meeting of the trustees of the of a committee to select a location in the country, no nore than ten miles from New York, on which to build an Actors' Home. He thought the expense of establishing such an institution need not be more than from $12.000 to $15.000. He thought the Home should have a $12,000 to $15,000. He thought the Home should have a hospital capable of sheltering from twelve to fifteen actors able to pay, and the same number of actors unable to pay. The cost of providing for the latter, he thought, would not exceed from $1.50 to $4 a week each. And for ten years out to be suttitled to enter the home without payment.

Col. Sinn thought that old actors or old actresses in the Old Men's House or the Old Women's Home for the rest of their lives for from $1 to $2 a week each.

Messry. Colville, Birch. Sinn, Henderson, and Miner were appointed to report on the question. It was resolved to give a matthee on April 17 at four theatres in New York and at all the Brooklyn theatres for the buefit of the fund.

Council gave the investors the right to lay the wires, and in last November ten were buried along Craig street from the Central Fire illendquarters to the City Hall, a distance of nearly three-quarters of a mile. Two of these wires are for the city sues. They supply the electric call bells and work the fire gongs. The other eight are used every day by the experimenters, who have a room in each building. They use their wires for telephone and telegraph purposes, and could pass an electric light current over them if it was desirable. Their project is to satisfy the authorities that the plan will work throughout a Montreal winter, and that the movement of the ground when the spring thaw comes will not damage the wires. They laid their wires in frightfully stormy weather, and the winter has already proved unusually severe.

The wires are the ordinary ones, insulated by a coating of woven thread covered with wax. At a depth of two feet beneath the surface of the street the experimenters sunk a face of the street the experimenters and such a face of the street from the first the form of the street of the street for probate yesteria.

Sentenced Again to Death. Alexander Jefferson, the negro murderer whose plea for a new trial was depied by the Genera Term of the Supreme Court, was brought before Judge Moore, in the Court of Sessions, Brooklyn, yesterday, to Moore, in the Court of Sessions, Brooklyn, yesterday, to be resentenced. When asked if he had anything to say, Jefferson replied: "When I committed the act I was under the influence of liquor. This is one reason why I say I am not freepoinsible for the act. Another reason is that the evidence was not all true. I also claim that I had sufficient cause to do what I did, but I was not in my proper senses. I think it rather hard that a man should take away a life that God has given. Cautioning the Brooklyn Police.

In a general order issued to the police of Brooklyn, yesterday. Commissioner Partridge said: Policemen must remember that they are the servants of the public, paid for performing specific duties, and that for failure to perform such duties the people, through their law makers, have declared that certain penaltics shall be imposed. The most unpleasant duty which the Commissioner has to perform is to impose fines upon, or to dismiss, officers who violate the law or roles of the department, because by so doing suffering is brought upon the imnocent families of such officers.

Trimming his Salary with Lace.

Emil Herr, stock clerk for Goldberg Bros. & Co., 470 Brooms street, confessed yesterday that he had been robbing the firm of laces. There was a trunkful of laces in this room at 326 West Thirty-third street, and almost every woman in the house had laces which she had bought chesp from lierr. A clergyman bought some for his wife and daughters. Herr's sairry was $12 a week. He says be gave a chorus singer at the hijou opera House $20 a week and some of the more valuable laces. Justice Power committed him to the Tomba.

Lost and Found on the Bridge.

"Are many lost articles picked up on the bridge!" asked a reporter yesterday of Capt. Ward.
"Yes, and they are of as varied a character as on can well imagine. Here are six silver fruit knives. baby's shoe, a man's rubbers, pistols clasp knives, feathers hats, veils, everylasses, a cigar case, fain, and no end of bundles. We found a baby one day, and once a pug dog, and once a bottle of whiskey. The baby and the pur dog were claimed, and if can's how then to you, but here is the bottle. I see everylasses in the broken unbreits were purposely less on the bridge.

Lemuel Towel, the Captain of the tugboat Braudon, lying at the foot of Barrow street, saw a man throw himself into the river from the buikhead at 12), o'clock yesteriay morning. The fog was so thick that Towel and his men could not find the man after he struck the water. Half an hour later they found his body close to the pier. It was that of a negro 60 years old, with gray hair and side whiakers. His clother were dark and of poor material. There was nothing but a comb and handkerchief in his pockets.

Trying to Mefuse Laborers their Hire. President Kirk offered a resolution at the Aldermen's meeting yesterday requesting the Mayor to enforce the ordinance which directs that a non-resi dent shall not hold office in any of the city departments The resolution also directed Comptroller Grant to refuse to pay mechanics and laborers whose names are not on the list of registered voters. Alderman O'Connor moved that the resolution he over, but he was voted down, and the resolution was passed, Mr. O'Connor solute voting no. LOBBYISTS AT TRENTON.

Reaching the Hearts of Legislators Through

TRENTON, Feb. 14. Standard Oil is the atest disturbing element in New Jersey legislation. For two or three years the Standard Oil Company has sent a gentleman connected with their New York office to this city to look after their interests during the sessions of the Legislature. He is a pleasant fellow, always carries a pocketful of good cigars, and is very popular. He gives little entertainments at his boarding house every week. Members, Senators, and newspaper men drop in and spend an hour or so sociably. Last Wednesday a number of Assemblymen serving their first year attended one of these little suppers. One or two news-Assemblymen serving their first year attended one of these little suppers. One or two newspaper men who had not been invited to the banquet sent glowing descriptions of it, with a list of the persons present, to their napers, in various parts of the State, no their napers, in various parts of the State, no their napers, in various parts of the State, and hinted that the supper had something to do with Assembly bill 98, which provides for the removal of Standard oil pipe lines wherever they cross waters in this State. The new members were much alarmed when they saw their names in print in connection with the supper, and the oil bill came very near passing, so anxious were they to show that they had not been bought.

Last night one of the editors of a local paper, who boards at the same nouse with the Standard Oil Company's representative, gave a supper to local journalists and legislative correspondents. This morning Mr. Fiynn of Passale charged in the Assembly that the Standard Oil Company was improperly influencing members by means of suppers. He said that the press supper was in the same interest. Assemblyman Caminade, who was at the newspaper banquet, indignantly denied that there was moved that a committee be appointed to investigate the whole subject of supper. A lively debate followed, but no action was taken, the Speaker stopping the matter by ruling that it was out of order. The statement is made to-day by opponents of the oil bill that a proposition has been made the Standard Company to have the bill killed, and the amount of $3,000 is mentioned as the sum demanded. No names are mentioned. It is admitted that the passage of the bill would damage the Standard Company $1,000,000.

Value of the Canals.

A meeting of the Free Canal Union, composed of delegates from the Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade, Cotton Exchange, Produce Exchange, Mercantile Association, and Mercantile Exchange, was held vest-casociation, and servantise Extrangle, was held vesterday for the purpose of collectation in the support of any measures that may be required to place the canals in a state of completion. Mr. L. J. N. Stark presided, and Mr. A. B. Miller opened the proceedings by reading an editorial from yesterday's Stx. concluding: Yet while English opinion is becoming more favorable to canals, once the boast of the State, shall be allowed to fail into decay, or at least he left unimproved."

"I think that is all you could say on the subject if you should talk from now until doomsday," said Mr. Miller. Well, new that that is all admitted, what are we going to do about at?" inquired the Chairman.

"The first thing is of deepen the canals and raise the banks with the material exavated," said Mr. Miller. Mr. E. R. Livermore excluditation to the fact that the increase of business was equivalent to 2000,000 to be appointed to can be sufficient to the fact that the increase of the increase of free canals during the present session of the Legislature. The resolution was adopted. The Chairman appointed as the committee R. R. Livermore, W. D. Marvel, J. F. Morey, A. B. Miller, and Mr. Folsom.
